

PEOPLE WITH A PASSION

The third series of these talks is about to get under way with the first being on 22 November in Brandeston Village Hall (see the description below). After a break in December, the talks will restart in January 2019 and the programme is as follows:

22 November: Mary Ketley: “The Law is Reason Unaffected by Desire” - Aristotle (What you think you know about family law and what you ought to know about family law - or how to avoid pitfalls when life goes off track).

24 January: Brendan Baker: Money (What it is and is not)

21 February: Robin Aitchison: I kiss you,
Napoleon

21 March: Paddy Fielder: Stories From A Rural GP

The format will be the same as previous years with nibbles and a welcome drink being available from 7:45 pm and the talks starting promptly at 8:00. The talks take about 45 minutes or so and there will be plenty of time for questions. Entry is £5 at the door and the evening is usually over by 9:15.

People With A Passion: The first in the 2018-19 season will be on Thursday, 22 November at 7:45 for 8:00 with Mary Ketley’s talk on family law which, she says, will be a romp through common misconceptions of the law as it affects relationships and families. Mary is a specialist family lawyer who will call on her experience to demonstrate the importance of expecting the best but preparing for the worst.
